XLVII.—No. 185.

CITY OF KINGSTON, N. Y., THURSDAY EVENING, MAY 23, 1918.

PRICE TWO CENTS.

KINGSTON OVER THE TOP AND STILL GOING STRONG

Whole County Only $16,000 Short of its Quota of $75,000—Three More Days of Real Work Will Make it $100,000.

Over here, over here, We've the word, we've the word, over here, That our boys are over, our boys are over, And they need our help from over there. No excuse, what's the use, Send the cash, send the cash, over there. Send it over, send it over, And we won't be slack while they're over, over there.

More than 500 Ulster county men are in France or on transports that are on their way. Some of these men have been in France since last summer. Some of them have seen active service at the front. One has been taken prisoner and the only thing that mitigates his suffering in a German prison camp is the supplies sent to him by the Red Cross.

One man has been severely wounded. Another was gassed. And this is only the beginning, for only a very few of our men have reached the front.

When the Red Cross workers sing "Our boys are over" they call attention to a fact we must realize and act on.

"No excuse, what's the use, Send the cash."

And, if we keep up the pace, "We won't be slack while they're over, over there."

Money talks. Let us make our money shout for the Red Cross and its work for our boys over there.

Wednesday night was the big night for the Red Cross Campaign in Kingston because the city proved that already it is 100% back of its men through the greatest organization of mercy that the world has ever known its chapter of the American Red Cross, for it "went over the top" and kept on going, and intends to keep right on until the close of the campaign.

It was figured out at the beginning of the campaign that $40,000 was the least that Kingston could give and maintain its quota, and it is good, very good for us, and will be equally heartening to our lads in camp and over there, that we will not be satisfied to do the least we are asked to do. Nor should there be any slackening in either the enthusiasm or the giving, for it may be that Kingston will have to make up some of the quotas for some of the township districts, and even doing that, it will now be our pride and joy still to go beyond our least, for the sake of OUR BOYS AND TO WIN THE WAR!

When the workers realized that the amounts reported meant that we had "gone over the top," they were on the very edges of their chairs, waiting with bursting enthusiasm the final announcement of the total. $4,414.72, and when it came, there was a demonstration such as is rarely seen or heard in this staid old town. Hurrahs! Cheers! Shouts! And then by way of emphasis, a regular bombardment of crashes and bangs that startled even the shouters as Secretary Ralph Cohen vigorously and joyfully beat a very large and very black dinner tray which had to do service as a drum. While there was a large audience in the gallery, there was room for more visitors, and the whole evening is so inspiring that the people of Kingston would do well to attend the get together meetings and see just what it means to have their money collected and presented to the Red Cross.

One thing has been noticeable as indicating the spirit back of the Red Cross, and that is that every single get together meeting throughout the first War Fund Campaign and so far in this second campaign, has, following the singing of America, been opened with a prayer, call it blessing, grace or what you like. Wednesday evening the Rev. Arthur Cole, pastor of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church, offered the prayer, after which Herman LaTour sang one of the new war songs, "March, March, March," by Arthur Farwell, president of the "Community Singing" in New York City.

After greeting the workers last night, Chairman John D. Schoonmaker, spoke of the absence from the supper of the Auditing Committee, due to the fact that they were obliged to begin as early as possible in order to accomplish their tremendous task before the late morning hours caught them. The service which these men under cashier Edward Corkendall are rendering, though not spectacular, is a very great one, and in their work they were greatly assisted as the workers became more careful and proficient in the making out of their cards, carefully following directions. The first speaker for the evening was the Hon. Abel I. Smith of New was Howard Chipp, whose address while like all of Mr. Chipp's addresses was filled with many a pertinent classic and historical quotation and reference, was also brimful of real patriotism and encouragement. Since it was known to be true that the gift well given receives the gift, and him who gives receives the gift, Mr. Chipp felt that the entire county was being raised in character and made better for their giving through the Red Cross. Every means for the more efficient prosecution of this war was advocated by Mr. Chipp, who foresaw in its ending a lasting peace, wherefrom we as a country, shall emerge a more perfect nation, serving not only ourselves, but our neighbors and all humanity.

Throughout the evening the reports and later the addresses were varied by the spirited singing of all present, most of the war songs being now known by heart. At any rate, with Dr. Dodge as leader, they have to be sung heartily.

Another notable speaker, introduced by Mr. Schoonmaker, was Dr. F. B. Morse of California, who was for some time connected with Lord Northcliffe's paper in London, and at the front in the early days of the war. While what Dr. Morse told of his newspaper experiences was exceedingly interesting, the remarkable exhibit of souvenirs taken from the battle fields which are now famous the world over, was almost as interesting. These souvenirs these present were privileged to see after the meeting, when they were explained by Dr. Morse, who in his address paid his tribute to the Red Cross, and complimented the workers on the results they were obtaining.

The last speaker who aroused the wildest enthusiasm of all present, being greeted with cheers, shouts and waving handkerchiefs, was Colonel Ashwood, member of the famous Black Watch of Canada, twice gassed and many times wounded in action. With nerves still at an almost unbearable tension as the result of his war experiences, Colonel Ashwood, like the splendid soldier that he is, held the close attention of his audience, as he thrilled them with the incidents which he had to relate. He first expressed his great pleasure as well as duty in addressing men of such enthusiasm, and gave voice to his appreciation of the hospitality of the people everywhere here making him so at home. The colonel wore the uniform (including the kilts) of the 13th Battalion of the Black Watch, known to the enemy as "The Ladies from Hell."

While describing some of the battle scenes, the speaker dwelt at some length on the sense of humor that makes it possible for the fighting men to endure the hellish conditions and sights by which so often and for so long surrounded.

Speaking with very real affection of the loving care given him by the doctors and nurses of the American Red Cross, during his weeks in the hospital, Colonel Ashwood said that much as he hated to break in upon a gathering so comfortable and pleasant as the one in progress, he felt it right that they should know of some of the atrocities which he himself had witnessed. After visiting ground covered by the battalion in a counter attack, he saw two of his comrades, nailed to crosses and crucified as Christ was over 2,000 years ago, and even worse maltreated. Throwing wide his arms, this stalwart more than six-foot soldier, by the very action, his words and the expression on his face drove home what he had said, until it fairly cut into the hearts of his audience. He saw babies trampled on, pierced with bayonets, etc. He saw where the Huns had cut off women's breasts and he thought that Americans should know the type of the enemy they are fighting, but who, now that America has joined in the fight, thank God! can never win! (Great applause.)

Colonel Ashwood closed with telling of the serious condition of the allies, when our men came to the rescue, and the need of their continued utmost aid, but said that after all, as he noted the enthusiasm of the men before him, he felt that he had indeed been preaching to the converted.

The applause following this address was tremendous, and the meeting closed with singing, as is the custom.

All workers are asked to be prompt in reaching the Y. M. C. A. tonight, so that their records may be handed in in time to begin the supper exactly at 9 o'clock.

Men Sent From Fort Slocum to Georgia Tell of Help Received and Urge Support for the Red Cross.

Augusta, Ga., May 20, 1918.

To the People of Ulster County, Local Boards and Red Crosses:

I wish to thank the people at Ulster county, Local Boards and Red Cross, for the send-off they gave us the day we were leaving Kingston for Fort Slocum. All of us boys appreciated it very much.

We were only in Fort Slocum three days and then we were sent to the sunny south. It was a long journey but all of us enjoyed it. The Red Cross was more than good to us. They were at every station and treated us to fruit and gave us postcards to write home and mailed them for us. And they even came to camp and asked if there was anything they could do for us such as sewing our clothing. And us boys certainly appreciated it. We hope that if any one has anything to donate they should donate to the Red Cross, because they sure work hard for the soldiers.

Yours truly,

THOMAS McULLOUGH,

5th Machine Gun Co.,

Augusta, Georgia.

WAR MOVEMENTS AT A GLANCE

Artillery continues to play the leading part in the activities on the battle fronts in northern France and Belgium.

The Germans are still shelling the British lines heavily north of Bethune and in various other sectors of the Flanders, and Peadar fighting zones but today—the sixteenth of the German grand offensive—finds the infantry inactive except for small attacks and raids.

The British and French continue to develop their small successes by raids in various sectors, extending their lines and strengthening their defensive organizations.

Keen attention is directed towards the Kemmel area in Belgium where the French advanced their lines on a wide front, but apparently there has been no renewal of the minor operations in that district.

The British war office report today showed that a great artillery battle is in progress along the greater part of the Flanders and Peadar fronts, with the German guns most active in the Ancre valley (in front of Amiens) south of Lens, east of Robecq, and east of the Nieppe forest.

(The district east of Robecq and east of Nieppe forest lies immediately north of the British railroad position at Bethune.)

While the deadlock continues on the western front, there has been another flare-up of fighting on the Balkan and Italian fronts, but no movement of decisive importance.

Some German military experts are now predicting that the Germans will make their next drive against the French instead of the British, indicating that the blow would be delivered on some part of the front that has not seen any heavy fighting since March 21. This is unlikely, however, in view of the vast concentrations of men and guns which the Germans have made on the Peadar and Flanders fronts.

According to all indications the new German drive will be launched in one of these theatres.

The banner went to Ward 1, Mayor Palmer Canfield, Jr., chief, for each day. The amount was $451.75.

The other banner for most contributions went to Ward 3, William C. Kingman, chief, number being 134.

One thing has been noticeable as indicating the spirit back of the Red Cross, and that is that every single get-together meeting throughout the first War Fund Campaign and so far in this second campaign, has followed the singing of America, been opened with a prayer, call it blessing or what you like. Wednesday evening the Rev. Arthur Cole, pastor of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church, offered the prayer, after which Herman LaTour sang one of the new war songs, "March, March, March," by Arthur Farwell, president of the "Community Singing" in New York City.

After creating the workers last night, Chairman John D. Schoonmaker, spoke of the absence from the supper of the Auditing Committee, due to the fact that they were obliged to begin as early as possible in order to accomplish their tremendous task before the late morning hours caught them. The service which these men under Cashier Edward Corkindale are rendering, though not spectacular, is a very great one, and in their work they were greatly assisted as the workers became more careful and efficient in the making out of their cards, carefully following directions. The first speaker for the evening was the Hon. Abel I. Smith of New York, who said he considered it an especial honor to address the men who were going out to collect the money, which is the people half realized the situation, would be brought to them by those not only willing but anxious to serve their country and their fighting men through the Red Cross. He then gave a vivid picture of the Italian retreat, wherein orders were sent to the hospital to evacuate, which meant remove the patients, the physicians and nurses going with them. The American Red Cross unit refused to leave, and for four days two American Red Cross physicians and two American Red Cross nurses, stayed in the little shack of a hospital, operating until the floor was so slippery with blood that operating was almost dangerous. Their only recreation for four entire days was that of going out and burying the dead. Again it was the Red Cross, trucks alone, that conveyed all of the bandages and other Red Cross supplies about the war zones, thus relieving all railroad transportation from having to carry these supplies. In view of these instances and many more like them throughout the war-ridden lands, it seemed as though no begging for mercy to support the Red Cross should be needed. The next speaker for the evening was Howard Chipp, whose address while like all of Mr. Chipp's addresses was filled with many a word of real classic and historical quotation and reference, was also brimful of real patriotism and encouragement. Since it was known to be true that the gift, well given, blesses both the giver and him who receives the gift, Mr. Chipp felt that the entire colony was being raised in character and made better for their giving through the Red Cross. Every means for the more efficient prosecution of this war was advocated by Mr. Chipp, who foresaw in its ending a lasting peace, wherefrom we, as a country, shall emerge a more perfect nation, serving not only ourselves, but our neighbors and all humanity.

Throughout the evening the reports and later the addresses were varied by the spirited singing of all present, most of the war songs being now known by heart. At any rate, with Dr. Dodge as leader, they have to be sung heartily.

Another notable speaker, introduced by Mr. Schoonmaker, was Dr. F. B. Morse of California, who was for some time connected with Lord Northcliffe's paper in London, and at the front in the early days of the war. While what Dr. Morse told of his newspaper experiences was exceedingly interesting, the remarkable exhibit of souvenirs taken from the battle fields which are now famous the world over, was almost as interesting. These souvenirs those present were privileged to see after the meeting, when they were explained by Dr. Morse, who in his address paid his tribute to the Red Cross, and complimented the workers on the results they were obtaining.

The last speaker who aroused the wildest enthusiasm of all present, being greeted with cheers, shouts and waving handkerchiefs, was Colonel Ashwood, member of the famous Black Watch of Canada, twice gassed and many times wounded in action. With nerves still at an almost unbearable tension as the result of his war experiences, Colonel Ashwood, like the splendid soldier that he is, held the close attention of his audience, as he thrilled them with the incidents which he had to relate. He first expressed his great pleasure as well as duty in addressing men of such enthusiasm, and gave voice to his appreciation of the hospitality of the people everywhere, here making him so at home. The colonel wore the uniform (including the kilts) of the 12th Battalion of the Black Watch, known to the enemy as "The Ladies from Hell."

While describing some of the battle scenes, the speaker dwelt at some length on the sense of humor that makes it possible for the fighting men to endure the hellish conditions and sights by which so often and for so long surrounded. After speaking with very real affection of the loving care given him by the doctors and nurses of the American Red Cross, during his weeks in the hospital, Colonel Ashwood said that much as he hated to break in upon a gathering so comfortable and pleasant as the one in progress, he felt it but right that they should know of some of the atrocities which he himself had witnessed. After visiting ground covered by the battalion in a counter attack, he saw two of his comrades, nailed to crosses and crucified as Christ was, over 2,000 years ago.

Throwing wide his arms, this stalwart more than six-foot soldier, by the very action, his words and the expression on his face drove home what he had said, until it fairly cut into the hearts of his audience. He saw babies trampled on, placed with bayonets, etc. He saw where the Hun had cut off women's breasts and he thought that Americans should know the type of the enemy they are fighting, but who now that America has joined in the fight, thank God! can never win! (Great applause.)

Colonel Ashwood closed with telling of the serious condition of the allies, when our men came to the rescue, and the need of their continued utmost aid, but said that, after all, as he noted the enthusiasm of the men before him, he felt that he had indeed been preaching to the converted.

The applause following this address was tremendous and the meeting closed with singing, as is the custom.

All workers are asked to be prompt in reaching the Y. M. C. A. tonight, so that their records may be handed in in time to begin the supper exactly at 9 o'clock.

WHAT RED CROSS DID FOR OUR SOLDIERS

Men Sent From Fort Slocum to Georgia Tell of Help Received and Urge Support for the Red Cross.

Augusta, Ga., May 20, 1918.

To the People of Ulster County, Local Boards and Red Cross:

I wish to thank the people of Ulster County, Local Boards and Red Cross, for the send-off they gave us the day we were leaving Kingston for Fort Slocum. All of us boys appreciated it very much.

We were only in Fort Slocum three days and then we were sent to the sunny south. It was a long journey, but all of us enjoyed it. The Red Cross was more than good to us. They were at every station, and treated us to fruit and gave us postcards to write home and mailed them for us. And they even came to camp and asked if there was anything they could do for us such as sewing our clothing. And us boys certainly appreciated it. We hope that if any one has anything to donate they should donate to the Red Cross, because they sure work hard for the soldiers.

Yours truly,
THOMAS McTULLOUGH,
5th Machine Gun Co.,
Augusta, Georgia.

WAR MOVEMENTS AT A GLANCE

Artillery continues to play the leading part in the activities on the battle fronts in northern France and Belgium.

The Germans are still shelling the British lines heavily north of Bethune and in various other sectors of the Flanders and Picardy fighting zones but today—the sixty-fourth of the German grand offensive—finds the infantry inactive except for small attacks and raids.

The British and French continue to develop their small successes by raids in various sectors, extending their lines and strengthening their defensive organizations.

Keen attention is directed towards the Kemmel area in Belgium where the French advanced their lines on a wide front, but apparently there has been no renewal of the minor operations in that district.

The British war office report today showed that a great artillery battle is in progress along the greater part of the Flanders and Picardy fronts with the German guns most active in the Ancre valley (in front of Amiens) south of Lens, east of Robecq, and east of the Nieppe forest.

(The district east of Robecq and east of Nieppe Forest lies immediately north of the British railroad position at Bethune.)

While the deadlock continues on the western front, there has been another flare-up of fighting on the Balkan and Italian fronts, but no movement of decisive importance.

Some German military experts are now predicting that the Germans will make their next drive against the French instead of the British, indicating that the blow would be delivered on some part of the front that has not seen any heavy fighting since March 21. This is unlikely, however, in view of the vast concentrations of men and guns which the Germans have made on the Picardy and Flanders fronts.

According to all indications the new German drive will be launched in one of these theatres.

The things you'd never put in the Family Laundry

YES, it's beginning to look dusky around the edges of the cuff. There's a suspicious looking shadiness along the roll of the collar. Your precious new Georgette—You haven't the heart to dump it in with the general laundry. And yet you daren't wear it another time. It will only get duskier, and meet a still harder treatment from the heartless laundress.

If only you knew that that woman would not rub the life and the newness out of your dainty things!

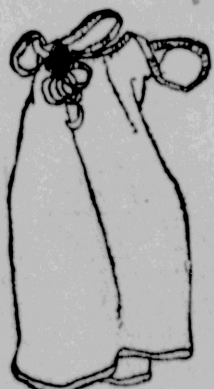

Remember how she yellowed that gleaming white satin blouse in one washing? And the flesh colored crepe de Chine that everybody liked so much? Ruined! the very first day you trusted it out of your own hands!

You cannot afford to have your nicest things go so fast.

Don't hate the laundress! Don't squander your energy feeling murderous towards her! She has no grudge against your filmy things. She doesn't want to ruin them. She's simply keeping on washing them in the only way she knows—the old, old way that was good enough when materials were coarse and heavy and could stand hard usage.

You, yourself, with a fraction of the energy you once spent hating the laundress, can now gently rinse the dirt out of your filmiest things—take them from the pure Lux suds soft and gleaming and new!

The secret? No rubbing of a cake of soap on fine fabrics! No rubbing again to get the soap and the dirt out. Just the gentle cleansing with pure Lux suds that frail things must have to keep them unharmed.

Silk Underwear! Silk stockings! Lacy jabots washed like new!

Ask any friend of yours how she keeps her dainty things so new. Her white satin collar and cuffs. Her silk underwear that does not turn yellow. Her fine laces that do not weaken or tear.

It's the Lux way that does it.

Lux is the most modern form of soap. There is nothing else like it. Lux comes in wonderful, delicate white flakes—pure and transparent. You tumble a tablespoonful of them into hot water, whisk them immediately into the richest, sudsiest lather, add cold water to make lukewarm, then drop your most exquisite blouse into the pure suds.

A few minutes' soaking to loosen the dirt—then you dip your precious blouse, your daintiest silk underwear, up and down in the warm suds, gently press the cleansing suds through the fabric again and again. The Lux suds leave it clean and new—not a fiber roughened or torn or weakened in any way.

Lux is so pure that it will not harm anything that pure water alone will not injure.

Just try a package of Lux today. Try it on the most precious thing you have. You'll never again trust your fine things to the old way of washing—nor blame the laundress for her cruelty to delicate things. You'll simply keep on dipping your daintiest things in the Lux suds, and having them back like new in less time than you ever dreamed was possible.

Baby's little woolens—how you dread to trust them out of your own hands!

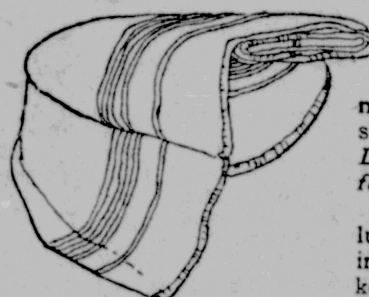

Try the new way—the Lux way. It's the free alkali in ordinary soaps that makes the wool fibers mat and shrink. It's the rubbing that shrinks and stiffens them.

The hot Lux suds—yes, very hot—will give them back to you soft and woolly with not a thread shrunken.

To wash baby's woolens

Mix very hot suds (two tablespoonfuls of Lux to the gallon), drop the flannels in, and let them soak till the water is cool enough for your hands to bear. Then swish the flannels up and down in the suds, till the dirt has been carried out of them into the suds. Rinse twice with clear water just as hot as the first water. Then a third rinsing of hot water in which you have dissolved a little Lux. (This leaves them wonderfully soft and woolly.) No twisting. Just squeeze the water gently out of the flannels, then hang them to dry in the shade. (Wash colored woolens in lukewarm suds and do not soak.)

You will bless Lux. You will always remember your delight with those first little flannels and booties that came so soft and new from their Lux tubbing.

Lux suds—very hot suds—then swishing them up and down till every speck of dirt is out.

Blankets, too. The miracle of Lux is not in cleansing sheer things only. Lux is wonderful for woolens.

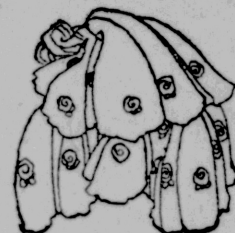

Think of the luxury of not having to rub blankets! Just trusting them to the hot

To wash blankets

Two tablespoonfuls of Lux to every gallon of water will give you a tubful of the richest lather, enough for a pair of large blankets. Then rinse twice in clear water, hot as the water in which you washed the blankets, with a little Lux dissolved in a third hot rinsing.

Don't twist the blankets—just pass them through a loose wringer, then hang to dry in the shade. You'll never believe until you try it yourself that blankets could remain so soft and fleecy, so clean and new.

After that, you'll hardly wait to drop your most expensive sweater into the Lux suds, your sport stockings, caps—anything that's woolen. Lux will always be a wonder to you. You will always take a fresh pleasure in the newness of the things you wash in Lux. (Wash colored woolens in lukewarm suds and do not soak.)

Have you a rare piece of lace? Something that you have treasured and laid away?

Don't keep it laid away! Trust it to the Lux suds.

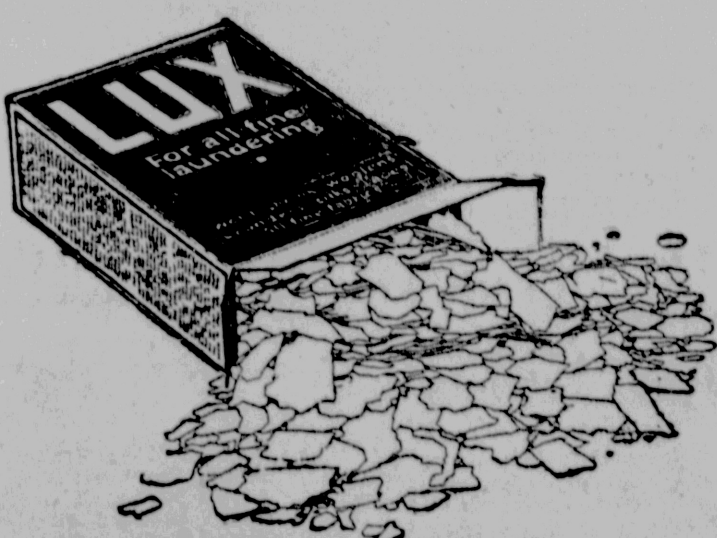

Lux makes it possible for you to use your finest laces and table linens often. They will last you long, because you wash them yourself the modern way—without a bit of trouble—just gentle, pure Lux suds and no rubbing!

To wash laces

Whisk a tablespoonful of Lux into a thick lather in very hot water. Put the lace in and let it stand in the suds. Do not rub. Squeeze gently and dip up and down, unless very tender, in which case simply let stand in the suds. Rinse three times in water the same temperature as the water in which you washed it. Do not starch.

If the lace is very frail, before washing, it should be basted on a piece of shrunken cheesecloth which may be pulled taut and pinned for drying. Otherwise it should be carefully pulled, every point pinned into shape and left until dry. This leaves the lace flat and makes ironing unnecessary.

Be sure to get your package of Lux today. Your grocer, druggist or department store has it. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Whisk a tablespoonful of Lux into a thick lather in half a basinful of very hot water. Add cold water to make suds lukewarm. Dip your blouse through the foamy lather many times. Squeeze the suds through it—do not rub. Rinse in three waters of the same temperature

To wash silk blouses

Whisk a tablespoonful of Lux into a thick lather in half a basinful of very hot water. Add cold water to make suds lukewarm. Dip your blouse through the foamy lather many times. Squeeze the suds through it—do not rub. Rinse in three waters of the same temperature as the water in which you washed it. Squeeze the water out—do not wring. Dry in the shade. When nearly dry press with a warm iron—never a hot one. Georgette crepe blouses should be gently pulled into shape as they dry and also should be shaped as they are ironed.

TURNED DREAMS TO ACCOUNT
Novelists and Musicians Have Scored Triumphs by Their Remembrances of Dreadful Nightmares.

Nightmares, as well as ordinary dreams, have more than once been turned to profitable use. The famous Mrs. Radcliffe, the great sensational novelist of the early nineteenth century, obtained her "inspiration" for such blood-curdling romances as the "Mysteries of Udolpho" and "The Romance of the Forest" from phantom horrors seen in sleep taken after supping on pork pies.

A remarkable story is told about the production of Tartini's "Devil's Sonata." The musician had made several vain attempts to write a sonata to his own satisfaction, but without result. At last, in a fit of dejection, he retired to rest, and no sooner had he dropped asleep than he fell into a troubled dream in which the devil appeared to him and took up his violin.

At first he was in an agony of apprehension lest the fiend should destroy his greatest treasure, but instead the Author of Evil played the most fascinating and weird music Tartini had ever heard. He then implored the devil to write it down, but Beelzebub flatly refused, and went off in such a rage that the musician awoke in a great fright.

But the lilt of the wonderful music was still running in his brain and he leaped out of bed, rushed to his desk and put down all he could recall, which, he always averred, was the worst portion of the wonderful whole. The sonata has ever since borne the name of its true satanic author.

De Quincey is usually called the English Opium-Eater, and he obtained the greater part of his fame from the awful, though often enchanting, dreams that visited him while he lay in the power of the drug. His "Confessions of an Opium Eater" contains some of the masterpieces of prose describing in wonderful language his terrible nightmares.

Pull Hard for Sammie.

B. F. Leavell, a Tipton broker, has a grandson he says is the greatest boy in the world. The chap is about six years old and is Benny Bates, son of Charles Bates, a Tipton business man. The grandfather was accosted by the youngster, who seemed very interested in an incident, and he desired the grandfather's information. He asked Mr. Leavell: "Who was the kaiser?" The grandparent, in his plainest way, told the youngster, and asked why he was so interested. Benny spoke up and said: "Well, when school was out today a little boy in our primer class threw up his cap and said 'Hurrah for the kaiser!'" The grandfather interrupted and said: "Why, Benny, the boy?" Benny, in his youthful manner, said: "Oh, granddaddy, I didn't care to. George Eibert did that." George Eibert is a son of George Short, another Tipton business man, and the youngsters are both in the primary class and both "pull hard for the Sammie."—Indianapolis News.

KINGSTON, N. Y., MAY 23, 1918.

The suggestion made by a correspondent, whose letter is printed in another column, that a canteen service be established in Kingston, is admirable. The only additional suggestion that The Freeman has to offer is that the work be done by some organization already in existence and that the funds be raised by direct contribution. Let us have no further multiplication of organizations and no excuse offered for the raising of funds by clumsy, expensive and inefficient indirect means. The campaigns of the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A. and K. of C. have shown that the way to get money for a necessary work is to ask for it directly, without any costly camouflage in the form of entertainments, etc., that may give glory to some few individuals but add only a very small sum for the time and money expended to the treasury of the object for which they are ostensibly given. The Freeman understands that a canteen service was suggested some time ago and that the only reason it was not established was that some swivel chair magnate in New York or Washington, to whom the matter was submitted ruled that it was not needed. He evidently, like most of his kind, based his ruling on a hasty examination of a map, without the slightest knowledge of real conditions.

MEN, NOT WOLVES.

A Kansan of the name of Scott, who does not see straight morally but who nevertheless is ambitious to become a Senator of the United States, bitterly complains because his opponents are using against him certain editorials which he saw fit to publish in his newspaper in the spring of 1915. One of the hits quoted against him, which he can not disown but the use of which he regards as unfair, reads as follows:

By the rules of this war (Germany's rules?) the Lusitania was fair play for any German submarine that could get close enough to plant a torpedo in her vitals. Germany, with enemies besetting her in which ever direction she turns her eyes, is fighting with a desperation that stops at nothing which offers a possibility of weakening one of those enemies. And who shall say she was not justified, the circumstances being as they are, in waging that kind of warfare? Wouldn't we do it if we were similarly beset?

Of course, we should do nothing of the sort. If German passenger ships were now sailing the seas, American submarines would not sink one of them without warning, nor would British submarines, nor would French, nor would Italian. German warships would be our game. Before any passenger or merchant ship were sunk, the civilian men, women or children on board would be taken off and saved from drowning; for, even though at war, we are men, not a pack of wolves. In 1915 the would-be Senator from Kansas was either defective in moral sense or he cared more for German votes than for right, justice and common decency. He is no fit man to send to the United States Senate in these times or in any times.

THE PERJURERS.

Thirty-seven years ago one Wursterbarth, a German immigrant now residing in New Jersey, swore to "renounce forever" all allegiance to any foreign prince or government. Two years later, when admitted to full American citizenship, he repeated practically the same oath and swore also to support the Constitution of the United States. Yet, since we have been at war with Germany, relying on the protection of his American citizenship obtained by fraud and perjury, he has boldly asserted that he would do nothing to injure the country of his birth and even declared that he hoped the United States would be defeated. In consequence his American citizenship has been formally taken from him by the courts and now he is an enemy alien who can be interned or otherwise punished for efforts in behalf of the enemy. It is stated that hundreds of other fake-citizens of Tontonic birth are listed and will be dealt with in the same way.

Such a cleaning-up process should be widespread and thorough, but meanwhile it is of interest to call to mind the fact that all such perjurers are obeying the infamous law of Germany providing that they shall secretly owe allegiance to the Kaiser while openly clothed with the citizenship of another country. While this is no excuse for the Wursterbarth type of wolf in sheep's clothing, it blackens Germany the more, convicting that country of monstrous perfidy and villainous deceit unparalleled in dealing with other nations even in times of peace and while openly professing friendship. We can expect nothing better either from such an outlaw among nations or from the Wursterbarths it sends forth to sink a viper's sting in a friendly nation's hospitable bosom.

CANTEEN SERVICE SHOULD BE GIVEN

Soldiers Passing Through Kingston Should be Properly Cared For—Necessary Line of Work is Suggested.

Kingston, N. Y., May 22, 1918.

Editor of The Freeman:
We have a Red Cross Chapter, a Home Defense League and an Ambulance Corps in this city at present; why not organize a Canteen Service Station?

On Tuesday of this week at least six train loads of troops passed through our city en route for embarkation points. Most of these fellows came from the west and they looked as if the journey was far from easy.

Let it be known, if it is not already, that luxuries in the form of "cats" and "smokes" are not for sale on troop trains and if they were, pocket money is an article of scarcity in the army as it has an unaccountable habit of disappearing shortly after pay day.

What a great amount of good a few sandwiches and cigarettes could do to cheer these fellows on what may be their last trip through the states, as many of them will never return.

Will we let the Huns surpass us in the treatment of the soldiers? No! That is the answer Kingston is always ready to give and she lives up to it.

The Canteen System is an efficient organization in Germany.

When the troop trains arrive at a town certain women of the canteen have baskets of sandwiches, pails of hot coffee, etc., ready to hand out to the men at short notice.

These necessities, as they should be called, have a tendency to buoy up the spirits of the men and to strengthen them physically for the remainder of the journey or until they are treated in a like manner at another station.

I know there are many women in Kingston who would be pleased to put their time to such good use and for such a good cause. Many would be willing to make sacrifices to help this plan mature for the women of America are Spartans when their services are demanded, not only by their country but also by their relatives and friends who are in the service.

Now is the vital time for canteen work as hardly a day passes but that its services are badly needed. Don't let the soldiers be slighted in our city for we must live up to Kingston's old and time worn traditions.

NEXT to the "Navy Blue" or the "Olive Drab" this is one of the best suits we know of for war time service. We don't mean just this style alone, although the three button Varsity Fifty Five with patch pocket is a very smart model.

No, what we mean is the fact that it's a Hart Schaffner & Marx suit. That's why it's a good suit for war time because it's made so well, of such good fabrics, that it wears a long, long time which saves labor, wool and money for war uses.

HOW TO KILL GORILLAS

Some natives on a Desert Isle (whose name I will disguise) were threatened by Gorillas of tremendous weight and size.

These Critters were so fierce and tough, so full of teeth and nap, they fought by day and prowled by night and at folks while they slept.

Natives were inclined at first to their gods to pray, but dance or hallyhoo to drive Brutes away.

But while they fled the air with sound those hairy apish hands came on and gnawed them with their teeth or broke them with their hands.

The Natives thought they'd get around the Devil Beasts with unctious. So forth they sent their Legal Man, well-armed with an injunction.

The answer of the Beasts was such I tremble to describe. They simply showed their wisdom teeth and gobbled half the tribe.

The Natives now were good and scared, so in a rocky glen they Leader summoned what remained, the women, children, men.

The Kultur of the Jungle Brute responds as we have seen. To neither Art, nor Poetry, nor Words, however keen.

The only way to reach his soul and teach him fear of God is to punctuate his Vitals with a Jabber on a Rod.

We've lived on Purple Pank too long. We haven't any spears. Our snickerneezes and tomahawks have been in soak for years.

When you blow in your money foolishly, you help blow out some American soldier's brains—for it is the resources behind the troops that will win this war.

When you waste your substance for some silly, unessential thing, you are wasting more than your substance—you are wasting your country.

Think of your quarters and dollars in terms of the blood of your country's defenders—and then waste them if you dare!

A fool and his money are soon parted—from liberty.

A country saved is a country earned—don't dribble away your country's resources.

It costs more to live in America than in some other countries—but don't you think it is worth it? Help to save the country by saving its physical resources.

You owe it to yourself to find out how Firestone Ford Wheels are made to save tires and money. With the same secure fastening as the Firestone Demountable Rims used on the largest, most expensive cars. Get in touch with the nearest Firestone dealer. Have him show you that:

1. The perfect fit of the rim keeps water and sand from seeping into the casing.

2. Rust can not make rim stick to the felloe band. Removal is made easy.

3. Squeaking is impossible.

4. "Wobbling" is prevented by the wedge ring which grips the rim evenly and firmly.

Percy Green spent Sunday night with his cousin, Harry Smith, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lennon and family spent Monday evening with Abraham Smith and family.

Leonard Van Etten visited his uncle, Rev. A. Quick, and wife Sunday and with them attended church at Mombaccus.

Fire at Whiteport.

The combined store and dwelling at Whiteport that for a number of years was owned by the late Anthony D. Rolyea, was destroyed by fire at an early hour this morning. It is supposed that the fire was started by lightning. Only the heavy downpour of rain saved adjoining buildings. The fire was so hot that Fagher's hotel, across the road, was badly scorched, telegraph poles were burned and the railway track was so hot that the early train had to proceed very carefully. The building had been unoccupied for some time.

R. F. D. Carriers to Meet.

The Rural Letter Carriers' Association of Ulster and Orange Counties will hold a basket picnic in connection with their regular annual meeting at New Paltz on Decoration Day, May 30, at 11 a. m., in the Grange Hall, to be followed by a picnic along the Wallkill. Each carrier is invited to bring his family or sweetheart, and lunch, and enjoy a day's outing.

UNDERNEATH THE CITY HALL DOME

The measles epidemic seems to be slightly on the wane in the city and Wednesday but 12 new cases were reported. There have been 454 cases reported since the first of April.

After practically every member of the police force had shown what he could do in the way of handling the two big, heavy dumb bells used by the civil service board in its physical examination of would-be cops, Officer James V. Connelly this morning picked up the two bells, whose combined weight is nearly 100 pounds and carried them out into City Hall Park to demonstrate what he could do in the way of hoisting them above his head. Unfortunately for one of the dumb bells Officer Connelly squeezed the iron rod connecting the two heavy balls too hard and it snapped off and fell with a crash to the ground. "That's too bad," remarked Officer Connelly regretfully. He added, "And if I did not have a toothache I would show how easy it is to bite through iron."

The last issue of the Catskill Examiner contains an excellent photograph of City Marshal Arrie Rice, the well-known local ball player, who is playing with Catskill this season. Under Arrie's picture is the slogan "Home Run Hitter." This season Arrie is displaying all his old-time pep and has his eye on the ball all the time.

The work of laying White on the Kingston Point road was started this morning. It is expected that the road will be thrown open to the public before Decoration Day. The White will be laid on North street from East Union street to Delaware avenue and down that avenue to the Park entrance. It will be a decided improvement.

The B. P. W. is busy top-dressing Foxhall avenue between Broadway and Hasbrouck avenue. The steam roller is also busy on the job rolling down the top dressing of stone.

Officer R. R. had his light put out Wednesday by an automobilist who settled for the damage. The silent cop was on duty at the corner of Broadway and Railroad avenue. This is not his first casualty of the season, however.

A band of Gypsies were escorted from the Rhinebeck ferry to Wilbur and sent on their way to Edenville by Officers Dahn and Lawrence Wednesday afternoon.

The electric light people were busy blasting out rock at the upper Broadway entrance to the city hall this morning to make a hole in which to place a new 70 foot pole. That was the reason for the sound of heavy firing on Broadway and was not due to the Huns dropping bombs over Kingston.

Saturday is Enrollment Day in Kingston high school. It has been given an opportunity of enrolling in any of the organized parties they may desire. Every woman voter should make it a point to enroll in one of the parties that day.

With a circus parade in the morning and the demonstration in honor of Italy Day Friday, the police force will be kept busy. The demonstration parade will be from the Burgevin building to the R. of C. building.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

HIGHLAND.

Highland, May 23.—Monday evening the Order of Eastern Star of this place had their official visit of D. D. G. M. Mrs. Bertie C. Ford, and A. G. L. Charles H. Vedder. There were visitors from Saugerties, Vassar Chapter, Poughkeepsie, and Kingston. The chapter was opened in due form and in the absence of the worthy patron, Martin Schantz conducted opening and closing, and Mr. Vedder, A. G. L., went through the initiatory work. The worthy matron, Mrs. Anna Bloomer, did her work, we were told, very finely. She makes a good presiding officer. There were two candidates taken through the labyrinth very nicely by the conductress and associate conductress, Mrs. H. W. Maynard and Mrs. Gertrude, who are good officers and do their work according to the ritual. Mrs. S. E. Decker was the grand conductress and A. D. Lent the grand marshal. These people conducted the grand staff and Mrs. Decker presented the R. W. D. D. G. M. and R. W. A. G. L. She always has the faculty of saving the right thing in the proper place and saying it neatly, and this time she certainly gave fine introductory remarks, to which the worthy matron responded in a very charming manner and gave warm welcome to the representatives. All were escorted to the east and given the grand honors. The addresses given by the district deputy and assistant grand lecturers were very fine, treating on the O. E. S. and service to our country: good fellowship combined with charity, truth and loving kindness, and those eloquent must pleasant comment from members and visitors. The associate matron, Mrs. E. Scofield, then approached the east and in her sweet manner and well chosen words presented flowers and a gold pencil, nicely engraved, to the D. D. G. M. Ford, and also the chapter gift of a gold knife to the A. G. L. Mr. Vedder, these were responded to very favorably from both parties, showing their deep appreciation of the gifts. Mrs. Hubne of Kingston made a few remarks which were enjoyed, and A. D. Lent gave remarks in regard to the order and its work and of being loyal to its objects and regulations and all know that all can work nobly and accomplish their tasks if perfect unity exists, but without this no order can stand long. Two Master Masons were obligated. The marches of the officers were very nicely gone through with. The floral decorations were very pretty and furnished by Mr. Batt. The secretary, Mrs. Palmer, gave fine reports and minutes. At the conclusion of work all were invited to the "tempting menu" served in K. of E. rooms. The room looked very pretty with the long table for officers in the east, then small tables seating four at each one, all attractively decorated. The fellow craft members and other Masons served chicken salad, jelly, Saratoga chips, sandwiches, ice cream, cake and coffee, salted nuts and mints, and it was very noticeable all brought their appetites with them, for it was late and everyone enjoyed the good things to eat and expressed their delight for the evening's pleasure, and left with happy memories of the O. E. S. and the 12th anniversary of the chapter.

Hudson river shad are very plentiful, prices high, but first class eating. Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Elting have been out on trout fishing trip up around Claryville. They had a delightful time and the change of climate and eatables combined with sport of fishing and cooking and eating them made their several days' trip seem very short.

The Rev. and Mrs. F. A. Coon were shoppers in Poughkeepsie one day this week.
Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Platt entertained friends from Poughkeepsie on Monday. These guests were here to attend the official visit of the D. D. G. M. and A. G. L.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Platt, Mrs. Julia Worden and Mrs. R. H. Decker attended D. E. S. meeting at Hudson River Chapter last Thursday evening at Newburgh.

The missionary meeting of M. E. Church was held at the home of Mrs. Theron DuBois on Maple avenue Wednesday afternoon. There was a goodly number present and a great deal of work planned for and some done for the Belgian sufferers.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Foster have returned home after spending a week in the Adirondacks. They motored there and had a very delightful trip and Mr. Foster enjoyed the fishing and hunting greatly.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles DuBois are at present spending a week's vacation fishing; also Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Reynolds are indulging in the same sport. This seems to be a great form of recreation for some of the residents of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Atkins have had guests from New York city for the past two weeks. They returned home last Sunday, after spending the time very delightfully with them.
Do not forget Tuesday evening, May 28, there will be very interesting exercises at the school house. Edward Paltridge will present two flags to the school. They expect to have a program and will no doubt have a crowd, so let everyone go and have a good time.

The W. C. T. U. were entertained on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Chester Atkins. There was a large attendance and a very interesting meeting.

Harry Millsbaugh of New York city was in this place last week and talked over the plan of bringing up a great number of boys to assist in the farming. It was last year, from what we learned of them last year they were not much help for they did not understand working properly. Still, perhaps, poor help may be better than no help.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Seaman, who have been on Long Island for the winter, are now at their home on Milton avenue.

Miss Grace Roberts, of Ulster Dorp Farms, has returned home. She has been in New York city the greater part of the winter.

Mrs. Edith Upright was in Camp Dix last week to see her son, Harold. He has now left for France. It is very hard for Mrs. Upright, as she is left alone.

Kelsey Staples, who had charge of the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company's store in this place, has now gone to Poughkeepsie in their store on Main street. They have removed all goods from the store here, and now return the business to the city. Perhaps, during the strenuous times of war, they thought it prudent to have less stores in number.

Vincent Jordan has erected a new barn on his place and some of the young people wanted the privilege of opening up with a dance, which was given, and a large number congregated and enjoyed tripping the light fantastic until the wee small hours. Refreshments were served and all left to get a few winks of sleep so as to be ready for labor next day.

Tuesday evening in Foster's Hall the Camp Fire Girls held a dance. They had a good attendance, good music and everyone present enjoyed the dancing and social time. They gave part of their proceeds to the Red Cross war fund, we heard.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller had guests last week from Kingston. Captain and Mrs. R. H. Decker entertained Mrs. Bertie C. Ford from Oak Hill the first part of the week. She is the D. D. G. Matron of the 11th O. E. S. district and officially visited the chapter in this place on Monday evening.

Mrs. Sarah Gedney entertained her son, George, from Mt. Vernon recently.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bonn, who have lived here for a few months, have now moved. He has entered the ministry and will have charge of two churches, one at Ballville, the other at Sugar Loaf. These, he informed us, are located in Orange county.

Wednesday evening the official board held a meeting in the church parlor. District Superintendent Rev. F. H. Denning was present and everything passed off in good shape.

Mrs. Prestler is now enjoying her new Ford car. She can get over the ground at a rapid pace and does not have to take any one's dust, but leaves many of the large cars in the lurch.

District No. 2 of the Red Cross drive, with Harry Maynard as captain, has made the following appointments for work this week: Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Decker, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Farnum, H. E. Wilcox, Corrie Gunasalus and Mrs. Kelsey Staples. It is hoped that all in this work may be fortunate enough to obtain the desired funds required for their purpose.

Austin B. Merritt has been shipping quantities of tomatoes to the quartermaster's department the past week.

Harold Upright has sailed for France and some of the other boys from here have gone. This is very hard for those of the families left behind, for they do not know as their return can be looked for. Yet we never know. Let us all hope the war may soon cease. This would be grand news to everyone.

Mrs. Lucy is spending a short time in Albany.

Memorial Day will be observed here. All organizations are asked to participate in the parade. We have not heard the full particulars in regard to the program. The Red Cross people will enter in the parade, so we are informed, and we know there will be some addresses appropriate to the day.

Some of the committees will meet this week, we hear, to formulate the plans for booths at the fair to be held for maintaining the library.

Mrs. George Main, Jr., of Kingston was a guest the first part of the week of Mrs. George Main, Sr., on Washington avenue.

ALLABEN.

Allaben, May 22.—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kador of Weehawken, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Risley a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. William Risley and son of Stamford, and Miss Margaret Risley motored to Kingston last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Coons, Mrs. G. P. Van Keuren, Mrs. Joseph Garrit, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Benson, Anna, Esther and Ruth Risley, Daisy Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. B. Knight, Marshall Knight, Beulah Guinick, Mrs. Ella Coons, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Rider, George Guinick, Russell Miller and June Whitney all attended the birthday party given the Rev. S. E. Sarceant at Pine Hill last Saturday evening.

The Red Cross service at the Shandaken M. E. Church last Sunday was well attended. Representatives of the Red Cross auxiliary were there, and reports of the work that had been done were very satisfactory for the short time the auxiliary had been organized, but we need more help so every lady come Wednesday to the M. E. Church hall and do her best.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Dickson and children and Mrs. Margaret Brown of Arena, Mr. and Mrs. Holstein, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith, of Kingston, were guests of G. P. Van Keuren last Sunday.

Watson Freer, 2nd, of Kingston, was an Allaben visitor last Sunday. The bills are posted in Allaben for the circus in Kingston Friday of this week.

Miss Ethel Peck of Stamford, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peck.

Mrs. Edwin I. Fish, who has been quite sick with a bad cold, is improving.

Charles Fraser of Broad Street Hollow was in Kingston Monday, consulting a physician. He has had a bad attack of rheumatism for quite a long time.

The dance at the Glenbrook Hotel was well attended last Saturday evening. Two weeks from last Saturday there will be another dance at the Glenbrook.

The dancing class still continues at the Fulton club house Monday evenings.

Little Mabel Van Keuren is spending a few weeks with her aunt, Mrs. E. H. Dickson, at Arena.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Schomerhorn of Kingston, were guests of Libbie Whitney at Risley's.

Mrs. M. Whitney of New York, is at her summer home at Risley's.

Mrs. H. Lebeck of Brooklyn, has returned to her summer home in this place.

C. R. Connor, Herbert Cramer of Kingston, Henry Messa, W. C. Dunn, Adelaide Ford, C. R. Reed of New York city, H. Garrison, of Weehawken, N. J., W. P. Earle of Brooklyn, are guests at the Allaben Hotel this week.

Mrs. Abbie Whitney of Kingston, was a guest of Mrs. Ella Coons a few days at Shandaken.

Mrs. Hiram Whitney, who has been at Dr. Kemble's in Kingston, has returned to Shandaken.

WHICH IS THE BEST WAY TO GET HOT WATER?

The favor of the family goes to Mazola—the oil from corn—because of the wonderful flavor of the foods cooked in it

THIS pure wholesome oil has gained a new appreciation for fried and sautéed foods in thousands of American homes.

Because it makes them so light, crisp and easy to digest. None of that soggy or greasiness which so often spoils fried foods.

It is ideal for shortening, too. Does not have to be melted—saves time, gives perfect results.

Try it with your next salad dressing. You will find that it is easier to mix than an olive oil dressing.

Wonderfully economical—can be used over and over again as it does not carry flavor or odor of one food to another—even fish and onions.

For sale in pints, quarts, half gallons and gallons. For greater economy buy the large sizes.

There is a valuable Cook Book for Mazola users. It shows you how to fry, saute, make dressings and sauces more delicious, make light, digestible pastry. Should be in every home. Send for it or ask your grocer. FREE.

Miss Grace Roberts, of Ulster Doris Farms, has returned home. She has been in New York city the greater part of the winter.

Mrs. Edith Upright was in Camp Dix last week to see her son, Harold. He has now left for France. It is very hard for Mrs. Upright, as she is left alone.

Kelsey Staples, who had charge of the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company's store in this place, has now gone to Poughkeepsie in their store on Main street. They have removed all goods from the store here, and now resume the business in the city. Perhaps, during the strenuous times of war, they thought it prudent to have less stores in number.

Vincent Jordan has erected a new barn on his place and some of the young people wanted the privilege of opening up with a dance, which was given, and a large number congregated and enjoyed tripping the light fantastic until the wee small hours. Refreshments were served and all left to get a few winks of sleep so as to be ready for labor next day.

Tuesday evening in Peeter's Hall the Camp Fire Girls held a dance. They had a good attendance, good music and everyone present enjoyed the dancing and social time. They gave part of their proceeds to the Red Cross war fund, we heard.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller had guests last week from Kingston.

Captain and Mrs. R. H. Decker entertained Mrs. Bertie C. Ford from Oak Hill the first part of the week. She is the D. D. G. Matron of the 11th O. E. S. district and officially visited the chapter in this place on Monday evening.

Mrs. Sarah Gedney entertained her son, George, from Mt. Vernon recently.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Benn, who have lived here for a few months, have now moved. He has entered the ministry and will have charge of two churches, one at Bellville, the other at Sugar Loaf. These, he informed us, are located in Orange county.

Wednesday evening the official board held a meeting in the church parlor. District Superintendent Rev. F. H. Deming was present and everything passed off in good shape.

Mrs. Pressler is now enjoying her new Ford car. She can get over the ground at a rapid pace and does not have to take any one's dust, but leaves many of the large cars in the lurch.

District No. 2 of the Red Cross drive, with Harry Maynard as captain, has made the following appointments for work this week: Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Decker, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Farnum, H. E. Wilcox, Corrie Gunalus and Mrs. Kelsey Staples. It is hoped that all in this work may be fortunate enough to obtain the desired funds required for their purpose.

Austin B. Merritt has been shipping quantities of tomatoes to the quartermaster's department the past week.

Harold Upright has sailed for France and some of the other boys from here have gone. This is very hard for those of the families left behind, for they do not know as their return can be looked for. Yet we never know. Let us all hope the war may soon cease. This would be grand news to everyone.

Mrs. Lucy is spending a short time in Albany.

Memorial Day will be observed here. All organizations are asked to participate in the parade. We have not heard the full particulars in regard to the program. The Red Cross people will enter in the parade, so we were informed, and we know there will be some addresses appropriate to the day.

Some of the committees will meet this week, we hear, to formulate the plans for booths at the fair to be held for maintaining the library.

Mrs. George Main, Jr. of Kingston was a guest the first part of the week of Mrs. George Main, Sr. on Washington avenue.

ALLABEN.

Allaben, May 22.—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Reator of Weehawken, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Risley a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. William Risley and son of Stamford, and Miss Margaret Risley motored to Kingston last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Coons, Mrs. G. F. Van Kuren, Mrs. Joseph Garrity, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Benson, Anna Esther and Ruth Risley, Daisy Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. B. Knight, Marshall Knight, Beulah Gulnick, Mrs. Ella Coons, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Rider, George Gulnick, Russell Miller and June Whitney all attended the birthday party given the Rev. S. E. Sargeant at Pine Hill last Saturday evening.

The Red Cross service at the Shandaken M. E. Church last Sunday was well attended. Representatives of the Red Cross auxiliary were there, and reports of the work that had been done were very satisfactory for the short time the auxiliary had been organized, but we need more help so every lady come Wednesday to the M. E. Church hall and do her best.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Dickson and children and Mrs. Margaret Brown of Arena, Mr. and Mrs. Holstein, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith, of Kingston, were guests of G. F. Van Kuren last Sunday.

Watson Freer, 2nd, of Kingston, was an Allaben visitor last Sunday. The bills are posted in Allaben for the circus in Kingston Friday of this week.

Miss Ethel Peck of Stamford, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peck.

Mrs. Edwin I. Fish, who has been quite sick with a bad cold, is improving.

Charles Fraser of Broad Street Hollow was in Kingston Monday, consulting a physician. He has had a bad attack of rheumatism for quite a long time.

The dance at the Glenbrook Hotel was well attended last Saturday evening. Two weeks from last Saturday there will be another dance at the Glenbrook.

The dancing class still continues at the Fulton club house Monday evenings.

Little Mabel Van Keuren is spending a few weeks with her aunt, Mrs. E. H. Dickson, at Arena.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Scherhorn of Kingston, were guests of Libbie Whitney at Risley's.

Mrs. M. Whitney of New York, is at her summer home at Risley's.

Mrs. H. Lebeck of Brooklyn, has returned to her summer home in this place.

C. R. Conner, Herbert Cramer of Kingston, Henry Messa, W. C. Dunn, Adelaide Ford, C. R. Reed of New York city, H. Carson, of Weehawken, N. J., W. P. Earle of Brooklyn, are guests at the Allaben Hotel this week.

Mrs. Abbie Whitney of Kingston, was a guest of Mrs. Ella Coons a few days at Shandaken.

Mrs. Hiram Whitney, who has been at Dr. Kemble's in Kingston, has returned to Shandaken.

ONE PINT
MAZOLA
REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
A PURE
SALAD
OIL

CORN PRODUCTS REFINING CO.
GEN'L OFFICES NEW YORK

The favor of the family goes to Mazola—the oil from corn—because of the wonderful flavor of the foods cooked in it

THIS pure wholesome oil has gained a new appreciation for fried and sautéed foods in thousands of American homes.

Because it makes them so light, crisp and easy to digest.

None of that soggy or greasiness which so often spoils fried foods.

It is ideal for shortening, too. Does not have to be melted—saves time, gives perfect results.

Try it with your next salad dressing. You will find that it is easier to mix than an olive oil dressing.

Wonderfully economical—can be used over and over again as it does not carry flavor or odor of one food to another—even fish and onions.

For sale in pints, quarts, half gallons and gallons. For greater economy buy the large sizes.

There is a valuable Cook Book for Mazola users. It shows you how to fry, saute, make dressings and sauces more delicious, make light, digestible pastry. Should be in every home. Send for it or ask your grocer. FREE

C. E. MAKE PLANS FOR SUMMER WORK

Executive Committee Plan For Tri-County Convention to be Held in City in 1919—Cornwell Tendered Farewell Banquet.

There was a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting of the executive committee of the Kingston Local Union of Christian Endeavor held at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday evening at which time plans for the summer work were discussed and also plans for holding the tri-county C. E. convention in this city in 1919. The business session was preceded by a banquet which was in the nature of a farewell to Eugene Cornwell, who is a member of the First Reformed Church Society and who has been active in C. E. work. Mr. Cornwell, who is a member of the business office of The Freeman, leaves Monday with Ulster county's big contingent for training camp. A number of plans were discussed at the business session, which followed the banquet and work for the summer months was planned. Arrangements were also made for having the Tri-County C. E. Convention to be held in this city in 1919. This convention will be held in connection with the annual sessions of the Ulster County C. E. Union and will be one of the largest C. E. conventions ever held in this section of the state. The counties to be represented are Ulster, Dutchess and Orange.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, May 23.—Prayer service will be held this evening in the Reformed and Methodist Churches at 7:30 o'clock. Those attending service at the Methodist Church kindly bring their Bibles. Bible study in Acts.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Hamilton and sons of Union Hill, N. J., and Mrs. John Barton are spending some time at their home on Tilden street.

The Red Cross solicitors are soliciting in our village and meeting with very good success but find some slackers this side of Germany.

All members of Esopus Council, No. 42, Sons and Daughters of Liberty, are requested to be present at council meeting May 29th. This is a patriotic organization. Show your patriotism by presenting yourself at the meeting and arranging to march with the order on Decoration Day. Kingston members take notice.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

Tables should be like pictures to the sight—Some dishes cast in shade, Some spread in light.

MEATLESS DISHES FOR MEAT-LESS DAYS.

Savory Irish Fritters.—Soak a pound of stale crusts of bread in cold water, squeeze dry and chop. Peel and boil six or eight white onions in salted water until tender, chop fine and add to the bread crumbs. Season with salt and pepper, add a tablespoonful of chopped parsley, a quarter of a teaspoonful of thyme rubbed fine and a dash of celery salt. Form into small cakes, roll in cornmeal and fry in hot fat.

Fish Pudding With Rice.—Boil a cupful of well-washed rice for ten minutes in salted water. Take a pound of codfish, whitefish or halibut and brown in hot fat, long enough to make it tender to flake. Peel and chop, one onion, fry until brown. Grease a mold and fill with layers of rice, fish and onion, seasoning with salt and pepper, having the first and last layers of the rice. Steam for forty-five minutes and serve with any fish sauce.

Rice With Scrambled Eggs.—Take a quart of a cupful of rice, add two or three tablespoonfuls of sweet dripping and stir until a light brown in a frying pan over the fire. Then add a pint of potato water, cover and cook until the rice is tender, season well with salt and pepper and stir in three or four eggs lightly beaten, add a little milk if needed for moisture and you will have a dish of eggs for five persons.

Chinese Fish Balls.—Roll two pounds of fresh fish in salted water for twenty minutes, then carefully remove. Reject all skin and bones; put a pint of the stock in a small saucepan, rub together two tablespoonfuls of butter and four tablespoonfuls of flour; add this to the stock and stir constantly until smooth, add the yolks of two eggs and take from the fire; add two tablespoonfuls of finely chopped parsley, salt and red pepper, a tablespoonful of ground onion, and a grating of nutmeg. Mix well, and then stir carefully into the fish. Do not stir until the fish is broken. Turn the mixture out to cool, and when cold, form into balls, dip in egg and crumbs and fry in smoking hot fat. Pour over a well-seasoned tomato sauce when serving.

Reasonable Conclusion.

"Although the footpad who robbed me of my watch and money last night appeared to me to be unusually tall, he offered in extenuation of the outrage the excuse that he was exceedingly short," commented Professor Pate. "The deduction I draw from the incident is that, in addition to being dishonest, he was also untruthful."—Kansas City Star.

What He Was There For.

I was visiting a few days in the home of some friends. One morning the little son of the family came into my room. I pretended to be asleep. He approached the bed and stood for several moments looking me over from head to foot as if taking my measurements. Then he said in a matter-of-fact tone, "I come up to pull you out of bed."—Chicago Tribune.

SELLING OUT SOME GREAT BARGAINS WESLEY'S, Broadway, Cor. Downs St.

Pen Extractor.

A pen extractor installed in an office will save all members of the force the tinky operation of removing an old pen from the holder with the fingers. The device consists of a metal loop which can be pressed down upon the pen so firmly that the pen is removed by a pull on the holder.

Hard to Beat This.

Women seem to be more given to the "marring habit" than men. A Boer woman named De Boer has been "spliced" to no fewer than seven different husbands, and is the proud mother and stepmother of 38 children, while her grandchildren number well over 300.

Take Care of Your Tires

America's greatest need is for ships—more ships. Every available vessel is being utilized in government service.

Many ships that have been carrying rubber from Sumatra and Brazil have been taken for active transport duty.

This will necessarily force a temporary curtailment of tire production.

So, make the most of the tires you have.

Use good tires.

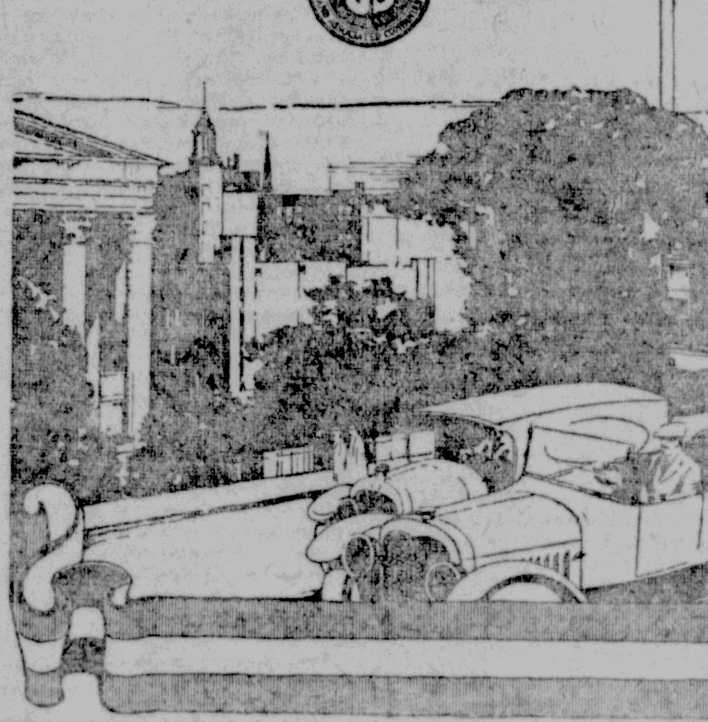

Take good care of them. Keep them in perfect repair. See that they are properly inflated.

Increase their mileage by careful driving. Keep out of car tracks and away from bumps. Don't scrape the curb or apply brakes too suddenly.

Get every mile your tires have in them.

Only in that way can you be assured of your car's continuous service.

C. E. MAKE PLANS FOR SUMMER WORK

Executive Committee Plan For Tri-County Convention to be Held in City in 1919—Cornwell Tendered Farewell Banquet.

There was a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting of the executive committee of the Kingston Local Union of Christian Endeavor held at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday evening at which time plans for the summer work were discussed and also plans for holding the tri-county C. E. convention in this city in 1919.

The business session was preceded by a banquet which was in the nature of a farewell to Eugene Cornwell, who is a member of the First Reformed Church Society and who has been active in C. E. work. Mr. Cornwell, who is a member of the business office of The Freeman, leaves Monday with Ulster county's big contingent for training camp.

A number of plans were discussed at the business session which followed the banquet and work for the summer months was planned. Arrangements were also made for having the Tri-County C. E. Convention to be held in this city in 1919. This convention will be held in connection with the annual sessions of the Ulster County C. E. Union and will be one of the largest C. E. conventions ever held in this section of the state. The counties to be represented are Ulster, Dutchess and Orange.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, May 23.—Prayer service will be held this evening in the Reformed and Methodist Churches at 7:30 o'clock. Those attending kindly bring their Bibles. Bible study in Acts.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Hamilton and sons of Union Hill, N. J., and Mrs. John Barton are spending some time at their home on Tilden street.

The Red Cross solicitors are soiling in our village and meeting with very good success but find some slackers this side of Germany.

All members of Esopus Council, No. 42, Sons and Daughters of Liberty, are requested to be present at council meeting May 29th. This is a patriotic organization. Show your patriotism by presenting yourself at the meeting and arranging to march with the order on Decoration Day. Kingston members take notice.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

Tables should be like pictures to the eye. Some dishes cast in shade. Some spread in light.

MEATLESS DISHES FOR MEAT-LESS DAYS.

Savory Irish Fritters.—Soak a pound of stale crusts of bread in cold water, squeeze dry and chop. Peel and boil six or eight white onions in salted water until tender. Chop fine and add to the bread crumbs. Season with salt and pepper. Add a tablespoonful of chopped parsley, a quarter of a teaspoonful of thyme rubbed fine and a dash of celery salt. Form into small cakes, roll in cornmeal and fry in hot fat.

Fish Pudding With Rice.—Boil a cupful of well-washed rice for ten minutes in salted water. Take a pound of codfish, whitefish or halibut and brown in hot fat, long enough to make it tender to flake. Peel and chop, one onion, fry until brown. Grease a mold and fill with layers of rice, fish and onion, seasoning with salt and pepper. Layer the first and last layers of the rice. Steam for forty-five minutes and serve with any fish sauce.

Rice With Scrambled Eggs.—Take a quartet of a cupful of rice, add two or three tablespoonfuls of sweet drippings and stir until a light brown in a frying pan over the fire. Then add a pint of potato water, cover and cook until the rice is tender, season well with salt and pepper and stir in three or four eggs lightly beaten, add a little milk if needed for moisture and you will have a dish of eggs for five persons.

Chinese Fish Balls.—Boil two pounds of fresh fish in salted water for twenty minutes, then carefully remove. Reject all skin and bones; put a pint of the stock in a small saucepan, rub together two tablespoonfuls of butter and four tablespoonfuls of flour; add this to the stock and stir constantly until smooth, add the yolks of two eggs and take from the fire; add two tablespoonfuls of finely chopped parsley, salt and red pepper, a tablespoonful of grated onion, and a grating of nutmeg. Mix well, and then stir carefully into the fish. Do not stir until the fish is broken. Turn the mixture out to cool, and when cold, form into balls, dip in egg and crumbs and fry in smoking hot fat. Pour over a well-seasoned tomato sauce when serving.

Reasonable Conclusion.

"Although the footpad who robbed me of my watch and money last night appeared to me to be unusually tall, he offered in extension of the outrage the excuse that he was exceedingly short," commented Professor Pate. "The deduction I draw from the incident is that, in addition to being dishonest, he was also untruthful."—Kansas City Star.

What He Was There For.

I was visiting a few days in the home of some friends. One morning the little son of the family came into my room. I pretended to be asleep. He approached the bed and stood for several moments looking me over from head to foot as if taking my measurements. Then he said in a matter-of-fact tone, "I come up to pull you out of bed."—Chicago Tribune.

Pen Extractor.

A pen extractor installed in an office will save all members of the force the ink operation of removing an old pen from the holder with the fingers. The device consists of a metal loop which can be pressed down upon the pen so firmly that the pen is removed by a pull on the holder.

Hard to Beat This.

Women seem to be more given to the "marring habit" than men. A Boer woman named De Boer has been "spliced" to no fewer than seven different husbands, and is the proud mother and stepmother of 58 children, while her grandchildren number well over 300.

Take Care of Your Tires

America's greatest need is for ships—more ships. Every available vessel is being utilized in government service.

Many ships that have been carrying rubber from Sumatra and Brazil have been taken for active transport duty.

This will necessarily force a temporary curtailment of tire production.

So, make the most of the tires you have. Use good tires.

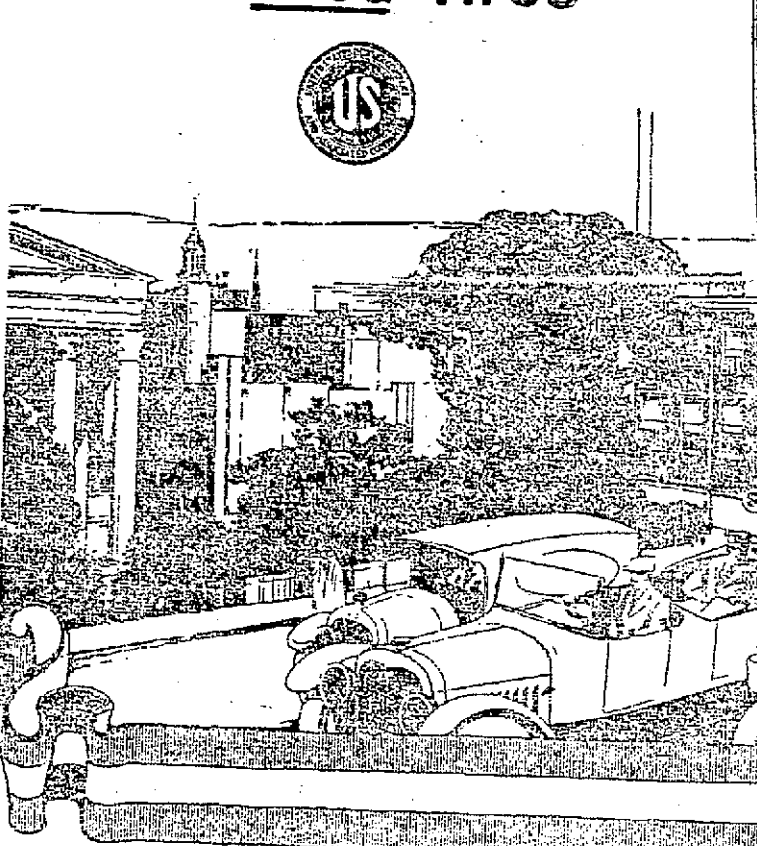

Take good care of them. Keep them in perfect repair. See that they are properly inflated.

Increase their mileage by careful driving. Keep out of car tracks and away from bumps. Don't scrape the curb or apply brakes too suddenly.

Get every mile your tires have in them.

Only in that way can you be assured of your car's continuous service.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, May 23.—The weakness which prevailed at the close of the stock market yesterday was intensified at the opening today, when the market was unsettled with declines ranging from fractions to over two points all through the list in the first fifteen minutes. Steel Common was traded in on a large scale, selling at the opening at 107 1/4, and dropping to 106 3/4, in the next few minutes, after which it steadied and ranged around 107. Baldwin Locomotive opened up 1/4 at 94, from which it dropped to 93 1/4.

Railroad stocks were under pressure, Union Pacific selling down 2 points to 121 and New Haven yielding 1 1/2 to 40 1/2. Reading was heavily traded in dropping 3/4 to 86 1/2. St. Paul dropped 3/4 to 41 1/4, and Canadian Pacific sold down one point to 144. Marine Preferred was an exception to the general weakness, opening up 1/4 at 102 with a reaction to 101 1/4. Anaconda dropped to 1 1/2 to 66 1/2, showing a fractional loss. At the end of the first quarter of an hour the market recovered its poise. St. Paul rallying 1/4 to 42, and there was a good demand for the list generally, with upturns from the low level.

Liberty 4 1/4's were traded in at 97.70. The 4's sold at 94.80 and the 3 1/2's at 95.95.

After early declines the market steadied and showed a better tone. Steel Common holding around 107. Union Pacific rallied from 120 1/4 to 122. American Cotton Oil moved up to 44 and American Lined 1 1/2 to 40 1/2. Marine Preferred gained one point. The copper reflected disappointment over the government price fixing program, and declined generally about one point.

After a show of pronounced strength in the early afternoon, the market was again subjected to bear pressure with many stocks then selling at new low prices for the day. Steel Common, on heavy buying, advanced to 108 1/4, but quickly reacted to 107 1/4. American Cotton Oil moved up to 44 and American Lined 1 1/2 to 40 1/2. Marine Preferred declined from 102 to 98 3/4. Reading fell over one point to 86 3/4, and Anaconda declined to 65 3/4.

The stock market closed strong; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds strong.

FINE COLLECTION OF WAR SOUVENIRS

To Be Exhibited at Rose, Gorman, Rose Store by Dr. Morse, Who Was For Twenty Months at the Front.

Dr. Frank B. Morse, globe trotter, salesman and war correspondent, who was at the front in France and Belgium for twenty-two months, is a guest at the Stuyvesant Hotel. The doctor, for nearly two years, was a representative of the London Daily Mail. Dr. Morse has a large and interesting collection of war souvenirs consisting of bullets, bayonets, caps, stamps, passports, etc., and a sheet of music which he found in Rheims Cathedral last November. The bayonet he pulled from a dead German soldier on a battlefield.

The Rose-Gorman-Rose store has arranged to exhibit this interesting collection in their store window in the interest of the Red Cross work. The doctor was in Belgium when the war broke out in 1914. He was in Brussels with Dr. Whitlock, the American representative, when the Germans took possession of the city and he has a collection of the first postage stamps issued at the Brussels post office by the German government. The soldier clerk who sold him the stamps stated he formerly lived in New York City and had returned to fight for Germany. When the doctor saw that America was going to get into the war he went to northern France where he was of great assistance to many American tourists who were trying to get home. Dr. Morse speaks five languages.

In Paris on September 13, 1915, Dr. Morse gave a dinner of eighty-six war correspondents at the Hotel Ritz. King George in 1915 expressed a desire to decorate him with a cross as a mark of appreciation of what he had done for the British. Having business interests in Germany, Dr. Morse declined the cross suggested that inasmuch as he was a collector of coins, he would greatly appreciate a set of which was the Maundy Queen present to the lords and ladies in waiting each Maundy Thursday. He received the coins, which he cherished with much pride.

Dr. Morse has a home in Sidney, Australia; Chicago, Los Angeles, Philadelphia and London. He is native of California.

Ocean Furnishes New Food.

Intelligent consideration of a little-known fish for other markets is shown in a new Japanese product, kipper samma. This fish is described by the Pacific Fisherman as a mackerel-like, and is peculiar to the waters of Japan. A Japanese packing company conceived the idea of putting it up in cans, in kippered or smoked form, and the quality is pronounced as good by experts that it is believed a market can be created in this country.

TOMORROW IS TO BE THE BIG CIRCUS DAY

Official Line of March to be Taken by Big Parade—Chief of Police Wood Issues Traffic Regulations Which Must Be Observed to Insure Safety in Crowded Streets.

Barnum & Bailey's circus, bigger and better than ever, is slated to play in Kingston Friday afternoon and evening, and undoubtedly the city will be crowded with visitors. The big circus parade is scheduled to start from the circus lot on Stephan street at 10 a. m.

The official line of march for the big parade is as follows: From circus lot on Stephan street to Cornell, to Broadway, to Albany avenue, to Pearl, to Wall, to Maiden Lane, to Broadway, to Delaware avenue, to Hasbrouck avenue, to Foxhall avenue, to circus lot.

This is practically the same line of march followed out two years ago when the big circus was here. Owing to the heavy equipment carried in the parade it is asking too much of the circus people to attempt to come down the Broadway hill and then climb back up again. By the above line of march it will be seen that the parade comes down Broadway as far as Delaware avenue.

Chief of Police J. Allan Wood has asked The Freeman to publish the following traffic regulations to be enforced while the parade is passing through the city streets. Vehicles are requested not to park on any of the following streets during the parade, Pearl street, Wall street from Pearl street to Maiden Lane, Maiden Lane, Delaware avenue and Foxhall avenue, on account of the narrowness of these streets.

Parking will be permitted on the north side of Broadway and Albany avenue and Delaware avenue headed in the proper direction, one deep.

All streets leading into Broadway must be left open for traffic but parking will be permitted on each side one deep within ten feet of the street corner.

Parked vehicles are requested to remain parked until after the parade. Do not follow the parade. Do not park near a fire hydrant. Traffic will be resumed after the parade.

With these simple rules observed by the drivers, not only of automobiles but of any other vehicles, horse driven included, danger of accidents on the streets will be eliminated.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, May 23.—The weakness which prevailed at the close of the stock market yesterday was intensified at the opening today, when the market was unsettled with declines ranging from fractions to over two points all through the list in the first fifteen minutes. Steel Common was traded in on a large scale, selling at the opening at 107 1/2, and dropping to 106 1/2, in the next few minutes, after which it steadied and ranged around 107. Baldwin Locomotive opened up 1/4 at 94, from which it dropped to 92 1/2.

Railroad stocks were under pressure. Union Pacific selling down 2 points to 121 and New Haven yielding 1 1/2 to 40 1/2. Reading was heavily traded in dropping 3/4 to 8 1/2. St. Paul dropped 1/4 to 41 1/2, and Canadian Pacific sold down one point to 144. Marine Preferred was an exception to the general weakness, opening up 1/4 at 102 with a reaction to 101 1/2. Anaconda dropped to 1 1/2 to 66 1/2. Disillers ranged from 61 1/2 to 60 1/2, showing a fractional loss. At the end of the first quarter of an hour the market recovered its poise. St. Paul rallying 1 1/2 to 43, and there was a good demand for the list generally, with upturns from the low levels.

Liberty 4 1/2's were traded in at 97.70. The 4's sold at 94.80 and the 3 1/2's at 98.98.

After early declines the market steadied and showed a better tone. Steel Common holding around 107. Union Pacific rallied from 120 1/2 to 122. American Cotton Oil moved up 1/4 to 44 and American Linseed 1/4 to 40 1/2. Marine Preferred gained one point. The copper reflected disappointment over the government price fixing program and declined generally about one point.

After a show of pronounced strength in the early afternoon, the market was again subjected to bear pressure with many stocks then selling at new low prices for the day. Steel Common, on heavy buying, advanced to 108 1/2, but quickly reacted to 107. Baldwin dropped over two points to 99 1/2, and Marine Preferred declined from 102 to 98 1/2. Reading fell over one point to 8 1/2, and Anaconda declined to 65 1/2.

The stock market closed strong; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds strong.

FINE COLLECTION OF WAR SOUVENIRS

To Be Exhibited at Rose Gorman, Rose Store by Dr. Morse, Who Was For Twenty Months at the Front.

Dr. Frank B. Morse, globe trotter, salesman and war correspondent, who was at the front in France and Belgium for twenty-two months, is a guest at the Stuyvesant Hotel. The doctor, for nearly two years, was a representative of the London Daily Mail. Dr. Morse has a large and interesting collection of war souvenirs consisting of bullets, bayonets, caps, stamps, passports, etc., and a sheet of music which he found in Rheims Cathedral last November. The bayonet he pulled from a dead German soldier on a battlefield.

The Rose-Gorman-Rose store has arranged to exhibit this interesting collection in their store window in the interest of the Red Cross work. The doctor was in Belgium when the war broke out in 1914. He was in Brussels with Brand Whitlock, the American representative, when the Germans took possession of the city and he has a collection of the first postage stamps issued at the Brussels post office by the German government. The soldier clerk who sold him the stamps stated he formerly worked in New York city and had returned to fight for Germany. When the doctor saw that America was going to get into the war he was of great assistance to many American tourists who were trying to get home. Dr. Morse speaks five languages.

In Paris on September 13, 1915, Dr. Morse gave a dinner of eighty-six war correspondents at the Hotel Ritz. King George V. in 1915 expressed a desire to decorate him with what he had done for the British. Having business interests in Germany, Dr. Morse declined the decoration, suggested that inasmuch as he was a collector of coins, he would greatly appreciate a gift of the Maudslayi set of which the King and Queen present to the lords and ladies in waiting each Monday Thursday. He received the coins, which he cherished with much pride.

Dr. Morse has a home in Sidney, Australia; Chicago, Los Angeles, Philadelphia and London. He is native of California.

TOMORROW IS TO BE SEIZED AND HANGED FOR A MURDER

Official Line of March to Be Taken by Big Parade—Chief of Police Wood Issues Traffic Regulations Which Must Be Observed to Insure Safety in Crowded Streets.

Barnum & Bailey's circus, bigger and better than ever, is slated to play in Kingston Friday afternoon and evening, and undoubtedly the city will be crowded with visitors. The big circus parade is scheduled to start from the circus lot on Stephan street at 10 a. m.

The official line of march for the big parade is as follows: From circus lot on Stephan street to Cornell, to Broadway, to Albany avenue, to Pearl, to Wall, to Maiden Lane, to Broadway, to Delaware avenue, to Hlasbrouck avenue, to Foxhall avenue, to circus lot.

This is practically the same line of march followed out two years ago when the big circus was here. Owing to the heavy equipment carried in the parade it is asking too much of the circus people to attempt to come down the Broadway hill and then climb back up again. By the above line of march it will be seen that the parade comes down Broadway as far as Delaware avenue.

Chief of Police J. Allan Wood has asked The Freeman to publish the following traffic regulations to be enforced while the parade is passing through the city streets. Vehicles are requested not to park on any of the following streets during the parade: Pearl street, Wall street from Pearl street to Maiden Lane, Maiden Lane, Delaware avenue and Foxhall avenue, on account of the narrowness of these streets.

Parking will be permitted on the north side of Broadway and Albany avenue and Delaware avenue headed in the proper direction, one deep.

All streets leading into Broadway must be left open for traffic but parking will be permitted on each side one deep within ten feet of the street corner.

Parked vehicles are requested to remain parked until after the parade. Do not follow the parade. Do not park near a fire hydrant. Traffic will be resumed after the parade.

With these simple rules observed by the drivers, not only of automobiles but of any other vehicles, horse driven included, danger of accidents on the streets will be eliminated.

Every member of the police department will be furnished with a copy of the above rules and every resident in the city is urged to co-operate with the police department in seeing that they are observed.

The small boy—and the older as well, are only hoping that Friday will dawn bright and clear.

Archaeology at Rome.

If one stops to think of it one wonders whether, even at a time when the world seems intent only on war, the astronomer in his watch tower of the skies ever allows his thoughts even temporarily to be drawn away from the wonders of the universe that it is his privilege nightly to behold. However it may be with the astronomer, recently reports of excavations in Rome show that the archaeologist has not been diverted from his loved pursuit and that to him "the grandeur that was Rome" still fills his imaginations and dreams.

As shown in a recent letter in the London Times by Eugenie Strong, assistant director, faculty of archaeology, history and letters, in the British school at Rome, archaeological research has been going steadily on in Rome even during the great war, although the work done has been in following up excavations already begun rather than making fresh excavations.

And the Boy Got It.

A hungry traveler put his head out of a car window as his train pulled up at a small station, and said to a boy: "Here, boy, take this dime and get me a sandwich, will you? And by the way, here's another dime. Get a sandwich for yourself, too."

The boy darted away and returned, munching a sandwich, just as the train was starting off. He ran to the traveler, handed him a dime, and said: "Here's yer dime back, boss. They only had one sandwich left."

Said by a Cynic.

GO TO WORK JULY 1
OR ENTER THE ARMY

Such is the Dictum of Federal Government, in Which is Given List of Occupations Affected by the Order. Considered Non-Essential to Winning the War.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, May 23.—Go to work or fight!

This is the dictum of the government as announced today by Provost Marshal General Crowder in an amendment to the selective service regulations dealing with the question of compelling registered men not engaged in a useful occupation to immediately apply themselves to some form of labor contributing to the general good. The idle, rich or poor, will find himself confronted with the alternative of finding suitable employment or entering the army.

The new regulation which becomes effective July 1, will also affect the following classes:

Non-Essential Occupations.

Persons engaged in the serving of food and drink, or either, in public places, including hotels and social clubs.

Passenger elevator operators and attendants, doormen, footmen, and other attendants of clubs, hotels, stores, apartment houses, office buildings and bath houses.

Persons, including ushers and other attendants, engaged and occupied in, and in connection with, games, sports and amusements, excepting actual performers in legitimate concerts, operas or theatrical performances.

Persons employed in domestic service.

Sales clerks and other clerks employed in stores and other mercantile establishments.

Idlers Picked Up Everywhere.

The regulation provides that after July 1 any registrant who is found by a local board to be a habitual idler or not engaged in some useful occupation shall be summoned before the board, given a chance to explain and, in the absence of a satisfactory explanation, be inducted into the military service of the United States.

Any local board will be authorized to take action whether it has original jurisdiction of the registrant or not. In other words, a man loafing around a pool room, in Chicago, may be held to answer to a Chicago board, even though he may have registered in New York and lived there most of his life.

The regulations which apply to idle registrants will be deemed to apply also to ramblers of all descriptions and employees and attendants of bucket shops, race tracks, fortune tellers, clairvoyants, palmists and the like.

Those "Called" Not Excepted.

Men engaged in non-essential occupations and who are idlers will not be permitted to seek relief because of the fact that they have drawn a late number or because they have been placed in class 2, 3 or 4 on the grounds of dependency. The fact that he is not usefully employed will outweigh both of the above conditions.

Popular Demand For Man Power.

"The war has so far disorganized the normal adjustment of industrial man-power as to prevent the enormous industrial output and national organization necessary to success," said General Crowder in discussing the new regulation. "There is a popular demand for organization of man-power, but no direct draft could be imposed at present."

"Steps to prohibit idleness and non-effective occupations would be welcomed by the people.

"We shall give the idlers and men not effectively employed the choice between military service and effective employment. Every man, in the draft age at least, must work or fight."

"This is not alone a war of military maneuver. It is a deadly contest of industries and mechanics."

"Must Organize For Future."

"Germany must not be thought of as merely possessing an army; we must think of her as being an army in which every factory and loom in the empire is a recognized part in a complete machine running night and day at terrific speed. We must make of ourselves the same sort of effective machine."

"It is not enough to ask what would happen if every man in the nation turned his hand to effective work. We must make ourselves effective. We must organize for the future. We must make vast withdrawals for the army and immediately close up the ranks of industry behind the gap with an accelerating production of every useful thing in necessary measure. How is this to be done?"

"The Remedy is Simple."

"The answer is plain. The first step toward the solution of the difficult problem of engagement by able-bodied men in the field of useful employment, idleness or ineffective employment, and thus induce and persuade the vast, wasted excess into useful fields."

"One of the unanswerable criticisms of the draft has been that it takes men from the farms and from all useful employments and marches them past crowds of idlers and loafers away to the army. The remedy is simple—to couple the industrial basis with other grounds for exemption. We must require that any man pleading exemption on any ground shall also show that he is contributing effectively to the industrial welfare of the nation."

"The regulation itself makes plain the determination of the war department. The great organization of local and district boards may be relied upon to catch the spirit of the movement and sorely needed man-power will soon be flowing into the fields of useful endeavor or into the other direction of military strength."

Ball Players Not Excepted.

The provost marshal general was asked whether baseball players and other professional athletes would come under the purview of the order. He said that pending reference of an actual case to him by some local board no ruling would be made. Inasmuch, however, as the instruction to local boards specified "persons * * * engaged and occupied in and in connection with games, sports and amusements" it was thought here that baseball players of draft age will have to show very good reason why they were indispensable to the public good.

Nearly all artificial gems—that is to say, stones that are really made by artificial means—are compounds of alum crystallized under special conditions. JACK COOMBS SAYS THIS
WILL BE HIS LAST YEAR

Jack Coombs, veteran pitcher of the Dodgers and a former star of the old Athletics, has told friends that this year will be his last season in baseball. He did not say what his future plans are, but he is known to have interests in Palestine, Tex., which probably demand his attention.

FEW PLAYERS FOREIGN BORN

All but Dozen of 400 Baseball Pastimers in 1917 Were Natives of the United States.

Among the 400 ball players in big league camps last year there were only a dozen or so who were not born in this country, demonstrating baseball is absolutely an American game.

The only big leaguers born on foreign soil are Catchers Jimmy Archer, born in Dublin; Catcher George Gibson, a native of London, Ontario; Catcher Miguel Gonzales of the Cardinals, who hails from Havana; Pitcher George Chalmers, born in Aberdeen, Scotland; Third Baseman Jimmy Austin of the Browns, born in Swansea, Wales; First Baseman Mollwitz of the Cubs, who first saw the light in Kolberg, Germany; Outfielder Marsans of the Yankees, another native of Cuba; Bob Bescher and Jack Graney, Canadians, and Jim Walsh of the Red Sox, who was born in Connaught, Ireland.

Moran Picks the Giants.

Pat Moran, manager of the Phillies, picks the Giants to win the National league pennant again. He praises Alexander and Killifer, but he says they will hardly strengthen the Cubs enough to enable the Chicago team to win the title.

"THE SCHOOL OF RESULTS"

FOUNDED IN 1889

WHY

Students Expect History to Repeat Itself

The numeral "II" was regarded by the Romans as unlucky, and, when reading history, it would seem that it has proved so with dynasties. It is recorded in English history, observes a writer in London Tit-Bits, that Ethelred II, the Unready, brought disaster upon himself and upon Britain; Harold II was killed at the battle of Hastings, 1066; William II—"Rufus"—was killed by an arrow in the New Forest; Edward II was defeated at Bannockburn, and imprisoned; Charles II had to fight for his throne and had a turbulent reign; James II was deposed.

The same thing is noticeable in French, Russian and German history. John II of France was captured at the battle of Poitiers; Charles II of Anjou was in captivity most of his life; Alexis II, son of Peter the Great of Russia, was condemned to death for treason and died in prison; Alexander II, of Russia was assassinated. And today Nicholas II, of Russia has been driven into exile.

Francis II, of Germany was beaten by Napoleon, and if the superstition concerning the evil influence of the numeral "II" upon kings holds good, William II—the kaiser—who is responsible for the present war, must come to a bad end.

IMPOSSIBLE TO STOP WORK

Why Even One Day's Closing of Vinegar Factories Would Mean Immense Loss to the Owners.

One vinegar factory at Philadelphia has been in continuous operation twenty-four hours a day every day of the year for fifty-two years and another for forty years.

This fact was brought out when the owners of the factories appealed from the fuel administrator's order closing industries for certain periods to save coal. Vinegar experts testified that to stop making vinegar would ruin the tanks in which it is manufactured. Alcohol is placed in tanks lined and packed with hench shavings. If the generating process is halted the shavings are dried out or burned up and are useless.

To stop for a day would mean closing six months, said a large manufacturer. Much of the present output of vinegar at Philadelphia is used in making explosives.

REWARD WAS WORTH WHILE

How Denver Couple Proved Wisdom of Saying, "Cast Thy Bread Upon the Waters."

Early in November, while Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Fisher were "window shopping" in the downtown district of Denver, Colo., they espied a lonely-looking Sammie gazing at a particularly attractive display of merchandise.

"He seems lonesome," said Mrs. Fisher to her husband, "let's invite him to dinner with us." They did.

A few weeks later the Fishers received a card from the young soldier, who had reached France and was doing duty in the heavy artillery division of General Pershing's forces.

Later he wrote that he had no kin on earth, so was "entrusting all his earthly possessions" to them for safe-keeping.

The "earthly possessions" proved to be life insurance policy for $10,000 payable to Mrs. A. F. Fisher in case of the artilleryman's death.

Filipinos Play Flute with Note.

It is not an uncommon spectacle to see a negro play a harmonica with his nostrils. Among the Filipinos a flute is never played in any other way, and it would create much surprise in that country to see a man play a flute with the mouth. These nose-flutists can play the ordinary music with ease, but fast ragtime is too much for them.

And the Boy Got It.

A hungry traveler put his head out of a car window as his train pulled up at a small station, and said to a boy: "Here, boy, take this dime and get me a sandwich, will you? And, by the way, here's another dime. Get a sandwich for yourself, too."

The boy darted away and returned, munching a sandwich, just as the train was starting off. He ran to the traveler, handed him a dime, and said: "Here's yer dime back, boss. They only had one sandwich left."

Said by a Cynic.

GO TO WORK JULY 1
OR ENTER THE ARMY

Such is the Dictum of Federal Government, in which is Given List of Occupations Affected by the Order. Considered Non-Essential to Winning the War.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, May 23.—Go to work or fight!

This is the dictum of the government as announced today by Provost Marshal General Crowder in an amendment to the selective service regulations dealing with the question of compelling registered men not engaged in a useful occupation to immediately apply themselves to some form of labor contributing to the general good. The idle, rich or poor, will find himself confronted with the alternative of finding suitable employment or entering the army.

The new regulation which becomes effective July 1, will also affect the following classes:

Non-Essential Occupations.
Persons engaged in the service of food and drink, or either in public places, including hotels and social clubs.

Passenger elevator operators and attendants, doorman, footmen, and other attendants of clubs, hotels, stores, apartment houses, office buildings and bath houses.

Persons, including ushers and other attendants engaged and occupied in, and in connection with, games, sports and amusements, including actual performers in legitimate concerts, operas or theatrical performances.

Persons employed in domestic service.

Sales clerks and other clerks employed in stores and other mercantile establishments.

Idlers Picked Up Everywhere.
The regulation provides that after July 1 any registrant who is found by a local board to be a habitual idler or not engaged in some useful occupation shall be summoned before the board, given a chance to explain and, in the absence of a satisfactory explanation, be inducted into the military service of the United States.

Any local board will be authorized to take action whether it has original jurisdiction of the registrant or not. In other words, a man loafing around a pool room, in Chicago, may be held to answer to a Chicago board, even though he may have registered in New York and lived there most of his life.

The regulations which apply to idle registrants will be deemed to apply also to gamblers of all descriptions and employees and attendants of bucket shops, race tracks, fortune tellers, clairvoyants, palmists and the like.

Those "Called" Not Excepted.
Men engaged in non-essential occupations and who are idlers will not be permitted to seek relief because of the fact that they have drawn a late number or because they have been placed in the 2nd or 3rd class of the grounds of dependency. The fact that he is not usefully employed will outweigh both of the above conditions.

It is expected that the list of non-useful occupations will be extended from time to time as necessary will require so as to include persons in other employments.

Popular Demand For Man Power.
The war has so far disorganized the normal adjustment of industrial man-power as to prevent the enormous industrial output and national organization necessary to success.

said General Crowder in discussing the new regulation. "There is a popular demand for organization of man-power, but no direct draft could be imposed at present.

"Steps to prohibit idleness and non-effective occupations would be welcomed by the people."

"We shall give the idlers and men not effectively employed the choice between military service and effective employment. Every man in the draft age at least, must work or fight."

"This is not alone a war of military maneuver. It is a deadly contest of industries and mechanics."

"Must Organize For Future."
Germany must not be thought of as merely possessing an army; we must think of her as being an army in which every factory and arm in the empire is a recognized part in a complete machine running night and day at terrific speed. We must make of ourselves the same sort of effective machine.

"It is not enough to ask what would happen if every man in the nation turned his hand to effective work. We must make ourselves effective. We must make ourselves a force. We must make ourselves a power. We must make ourselves a machine. We must make ourselves a machine that will close up the ranks of industry behind the gap with an accelerating production of every useful thing in necessary measure. How is this to be done?"

"The Remedy is Simple."

The answer is plain. The first step toward the solution of the difficulty is prohibition of idleness. Idleness, idleness or ineffectual employment, and thus induce and persuade the vast, wasted excess into useful fields.

"One of the unanswerable criticisms of the draft has been that it takes men from the farms and from all useful employments and marches them past crowds of idlers and loafers away to the army. The remedy is simple—to couple the industrial basis with other grounds for exemption so that any man pleading exemption on any ground shall also show that he is contributing effectively to the industrial welfare of the nation."

"The regulation itself makes plain the determination of the war department. The great organization of local and district boards may be relied upon to catch the spirit of the movement and sorely needed man-power will soon be flowing into the fields of useful endeavor or into the other direction of military strength."

Ball Players Not Excepted.
The provost marshal general was asked whether baseball players and other professional athletes would come under the purview of the order. He said that pending reference of an actual case to him by some local board no ruling would be made. Inasmuch, however, as the instruction to local boards specified "persons" engaged and occupied in and in connection with games, sports and amusements" it was thought here that baseball players of draft age will have to show very good reason why they were indispensable to the public good.

JACK COUMBS SAYS THIS

WILL BE HIS LAST YEAR

Jack Coumbs, veteran pitcher of the Dodgers and a former star of the old Athletics, has told friends that this year will be his last season in baseball. He did not say what his future plans are, but he is known to have interests in Palestine, Tex., which probably demand his attention.

FEW PLAYERS FOREIGN BORN

All but Dozen of 400 Baseball Pastimers in 1917 Were Natives of the United States.

Among the 400 ball players in his league camps last year there were only a dozen or so who were not born in this country, demonstrating baseball is absolutely an American game.

The only big leaguers born on foreign soil are Catchers Jimmy Archer, born in Dublin; Catcher George Gibson, a native of London, Ontario; Catcher Miguel Gonzales of the Cardinals, who hails from Havana; Pitcher George Chambers, born in Aberdeen, Scotland; Taird Baseman Jimmy Austin of the Browns, born in Swansea, Wales; First Baseman Mollwitz of the Cubs, who first saw the light in Kolberg, Germany; Outfielder Marsans of the Yankees, another native of Cuba; Rob Bescher and Jack Graney, Canadians, and Jim Walsh of the Red Sox, who was born in Connaught, Ireland.

Moran Picks the Giants.

Pat Moran, manager of the Phillies, picks the Giants to win the National league pennant again. He praises Alexander and Killifer, but he says they will hardly strengthen the Cubs enough to enable the Chicago team to win the title.
